'Our love should not be just words and talk; it must be true love, which shows itself in action'. (1 John 3:18)

SPRING 2 : Issue 2

4th March, 2022

Goddag! Welcome to our Friday Newsletter after another very busy week.

We have had a fantastic World Book Day today and the children have really enjoyed a day focusing on a very important pastime – reading for pleasure! We saw some fantastic costumes and have focused our learning around a very special book – The boy, the mole, the fox and the horse by Charlie Mackesy. If you haven't read it, I would wholeheartedly recommend adding it to your collection, for children and adults alike!

We started the day with an assembly where the children shared their costumes and heard many of our members of staff read parts of the book. The rest of the day was spent doing many different activities, including PSHÉ on friendship, taking part in a BBC live reading lesson and some beautiful illustration work. We also discussed why we love reading and the types of books that we enjoy.

As you may be aware, we are passionate about all kinds of reading at Great Addington and will be delivering online parent reading workshops over the next two weeks. These will give you an overview of how we teach reading at school and provide you with some strategies to help you to support your children at home. Key Stage Two's workshop will take place on Tuesday 8th March 4-4:30pm and the workshop for Key Stage One will be at the same time on Tuesday 15th March. I hope to see many of you there.
